Dear Customers:

This is an updated letter confirming our continued compliance in the manufacturing of our products with the CPSIA of 2008 and its subsequent amendments and revisions.

All of our raw materials used in manufacturing including coatings, substrates such as MDF, aluminum or hardboard, as well as components such as easels and hinges are sourced in the United States.

Universal Woods has on file letters from all of its suppliers of these raw materials certifying them to be in compliance with the 2008 act and subsequent revisions of all limits of heavy metals such as lead, mercury, nickel and cadmium.

The raw materials and, therefore, the manufactured products are also compliant with Section 108 of the law as they contain no phthalates.

We are happy to answer any questions you might have in this regard or provide additional information if requested.

Best Regards,
